SECOND PREFACE.

In publishing the last volume of this continuation, it is proper to acknowledge the services of Joseph Herbert Senter and George Murdock Perry, who have been Mr. Nelson's principal assistants.

The preface to the first volume would be incomplete as a matter of history, if I were not permitted to add that this catalogue, which records the second period of the Library's growth, has been paid for by John Jacob Astor, grandson of the founder, who has also provided for a third period of development by giving land on both sides, by building a third hall on the north, and by supplying a large amount of money for the purchase of books.

The record of accessions since 1880 is contained in a card catalogue supplementary to these printed volumes.

ROBBINS LITTLE,
Superintendent.
